NATCA30: Barry Krasner Led NATCA into the 1990s

NATCA continues its 30th anniversary coverage

"Both individually and organizationally, we have the obligation to leave the system and our professions in a better place than we found them. And the way to do that is to marshal our forces and to channel our energies into one cohesive voice." Read more.
Steve Weidner Talks the Future of Airspace Authorization

What does the future of Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS) look like?

NATCA UAS representative Steve Weidner spoke at the 2017 FAA UAS Symposium on March 29. This year, the symposium focused on initiatives to overcome technical challenges to safe UAS operations, as well as industry partnerships advancing integration. Weidner discussed activities already underway to support the future of airspace notification and authorization as well as the future dynamic of communication between UAS operators and air traffic controllers. NATCA in Washington

Last day to register is Monday, April 10!

NATCA in Washington (May 22-24) provides us with a tremendous opportunity to spend time on the Hill, educating our elected officials on the vital work that we do. The deadline for registration is April 10. We hope you will attend and make NATCA's collective voice heard on Capitol Hill. Read more.

NATCA Legislative

New poster campaign!

This year is shaping up to be very active for legislative issues related to your professions. In an effort to increase awareness of NATCA's legislative efforts, the National Legislative Committee has created a series of posters to be displayed in each facility. The poster campaign will run through NATCA in Washington 2017 (May 22-24), where the 5th and final poster will be handed out. This is the first week of the campaign and poster #1 now should be displayed in your facility.

As we all advance NATCA’s legislative efforts in support of our careers and the National Airspace System, we encourage your engagement. Don't be afraid to ask questions. Your FacRep, State Legislative Coordinators, and Facility Legislative Reps are great resources to help you get more involved!

CFS Recap: Beacon of NATCA Award

New award introduced at Communicating For Safety 2017

During heavy flooding, NATCA members began a week-long stretch of air traffic control operations that nearly doubled their normal weekly volume. From Aug. 5-12, BTR members handled 1,564 operations. But from Aug. 13-19, that number jumped to 2,775. In honor of their efforts, the Baton Rouge local was presented with the first Beacon of NATCA award. Read more.

Take a Stand For Safety: IFR/VFR Conflicts

"The Debunkers" take on myths in search of safety truths

There are some misunderstandings out in the field. For example, see-and-avoid to controllers means pilots are on their own and they're going to separate themselves. Learn why this is a dangerous myth that NATCA, the FAA, and AOPA are debunking. Watch here.
