Update about NATCA's 19th Biennial Convention

DAY 4 | THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 2023

Today's Agenda

Below is today's tentative schedule for General Sessions at NATCA's 19th Biennial Convention, subject to Convention business:

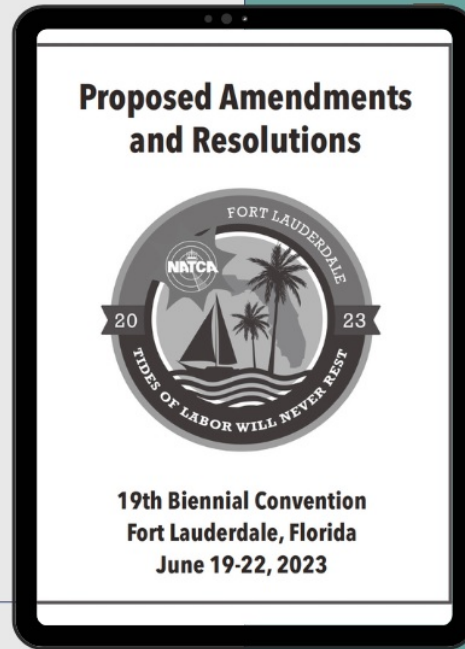

9 a.m. to 12 p.m. EDT // 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. EDT

Proposed Amendments and Resolutions

A few weeks ago, NATCA members should have received a Convention package containing all the proposed amendments to the NATCA constitution, resolutions, and policy and position statements in the mail. The booklet is also available electronically on the NATCA Convention resources page.

CONVENTION PACKAGE IS AVAILABLE ONLINE

Find it on the NATCA Convention resource web page.

Resolutions & Untimely Amendments Now Available

Untimely amendments and resolutions submitted by 7 a.m. EDT on Thursday, June 22, 2023, may be downloaded here.

NATCA Members Can Live Stream the General Sessions from Our Union's 19th Biennial Convention

NATCA's 19th Biennial Convention live stream continues on the members-only natca.org website (requiring a password) beginning at approximately 9 a.m. EDT today.

For the link to the live stream and all news and information about NATCA's Convention – before, during, and after the event – click here.

NOTE: Videos from the Convention will be available to view on demand after the event on the members-only side of the NATCA website.

NCF Solidarity Night at the Backyard

On Tuesday, the NATCA Charitable Foundation hosted Solidarity Night at The Backyard. The evening included live music from local acts and DJ'ing by NATCA member Chris Iresabal (Jacksonville ATCT, JAX). The event raised money and awareness for four charities: Citizens for a Better South Florida, Fish With a Hero, Safespace, and Thorn. Read more about each charity here.
