

NATCA and NBAA Hosts “Coffee with Controllers” at EAA Oshkosh AirVenture

At the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) AirVenture in Oshkosh, Wis., NATCA and the National Business Aviation Association (NBAA) were excited to host an informal networking opportunity with professional air traffic controllers. #OSH23 attendees were invited to join for coffee, discussions about flying through the National Airspace System, and any questions they have for Tower, Approach, En Route, and Oceanic controllers. Representing NATCA at the event were Karoline Gorman (New York Center, ZNY), Wendy Smith (Albuquerque ATCT, ABQ), Jesse Strickland (Houston Center, ZHU), and Matt Trimble (Columbia ATCT, CAE & Article 114 Representative for Notice to Air Missions [NOTAMs]).

NATCA Scholarship Winner Skylar Albright's Essay

Every year, NATCA offers a scholarship program for spouses, children, stepchildren, and legally adopted children of active, retired, and deceased members in good standing for at least two consecutive years. This scholarship is for full-time attendance at accredited colleges and universities within the United States and its territories for an undergraduate degree program.

This year's prompt asked candidates to examine why labor unions are experiencing a resurgence and what implications this has for the future.

Skylar Albright, child of retired members Thomas Albright (Miami Center, ZMA) and Kimberly Albright (Asheville ATCT, AVL), and brother of Chase Albright (San Juan Center, ZSU), is among this year's 20 scholarship winners. Read the essay that Skylar submitted here on NATCA's website.

“ American workers have begun to organize to protect their rights and prevent corporations from taking advantage of them. They want to be heard. ”
