

NATCA Wishes You a Happy Kwanzaa

NATCA wishes you a Happy Kwanzaa! Kwanza is a week-long holiday that falls between Dec. 26 and Jan. 1 each year. If you'd like to learn more about Kwanzaa, we encourage you to visit the National Museum of African American History and Culture's article about it, found here.

We thank those of you working over the holiday to keep our National Airspace System operating safely and efficiently. Your sacrifice and dedication to our profession allows millions of people across the country to celebrate with their family and friends.
