

ICYMI: Watch NATCA President Nick Daniels on Fox News Live, Sunday, May 25

NATCA President Nick Daniels continued his media appearances on Sunday, May 25, with an interview on Fox News Live. During the interview, Fox News's Chief Washington Correspondent Mike Emanuel asked Daniels questions how whether current ATC staffing issues and technology and communications failures could affect Memorial Day holiday weekend travel.

Daniels stressed that air travel remains safe in the United States because of the work of the aviation safety professionals represented by our Union. Daniels said that NATCA is pleased to partner with the Administration and Secretary Duffy to supercharge the hiring of controllers, retain the highly-skilled, professional men and women who currently serve our nation as controllers, and modernize ATC equipment and infrastructure throughout the National Airspace System.

U.S. Rep. Dave Taylor Visits Cincinnati ATCT (CVG)

NATCA members from Cincinnati ATCT (CVG) recently provided a tour of their facility and an operations briefing to U.S. Representative Dave Taylor (Ohio-2). The first-term Congressman spent time meeting controllers at CVG, while also learning about the tower and TRACON facilities there.

This visit by Rep. Taylor was a direct result of engagement with his office following NiW. Rep. Taylor reiterated during this visit what he told controllers in March, "We are going to get you all new equipment."
