

National Air Traffic Controllers Association

Mission

Our mission guides planning and judgment. NATCA is a membership-owned organization. We advance the status, professionalism and working conditions of all air traffic controllers and other aviation safety-related employees through collective bargaining, political action and other lawful concerted activity.

Values

Our values guide decisions and behavior. Those include honesty, tenacity, leadership by example, hard work, integrity, loyalty to the profession, open communication and the collective spirit.

Vision

Our vision guides who we are becoming. NATCA is a vibrant family of dedicated, aviation safety-oriented professionals acting in unity to improve the lives and professions of our members.

On behalf of the National Air Traffic Controllers Association, I invite you to join the NATCA family.

Representing over 20,000 Aviation Safety Professionals from 17 different professions, NATCA is a large and diverse family that is dedicated to maintaining the safest and most efficient aviation system in the world. Our corporate membership program gives companies the opportunity to support the women and men who operate and maintain the system.

Partnering with NATCA allows companies to not only support those who make the system work but also helps us work together to move the National Airspace System into the future. NATCA and its corporate members are the future of aviation!

I invite you to see inside what NATCA has to offer its corporate members and hope that you will join us in moving aviation forward!

Who is NATCA?

Certified in June 1987, the National Air Traffic Controllers Association (NATCA) is one of the strongest and most influential labor unions in the federal sector. NATCA is affiliated with the American Federal of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) and represents over 20,000 safety-related professionals.

NATCA serves as the exclusive bargaining representative for FAA air traffic controllers, engineers, architects, staff specialists, some DOD and Private Contracted Air Traffic Controllers, and many other aviation safety professionals. The Union represents the concerns of all in the field, not just its members. Although membership is voluntary, NATCA has the highest percentage representation of any federal employee union.

NATCA is organized into 10 regions, nine of which correspond to an air traffic control geographic boundary. NATCA's tenth region, Region X, is nationwide in scope and encompasses the Union's other represented bargaining units.

Each of the 10 NATCA regions is under the leadership of a Regional Vice President (RVP) who, along with the President and Executive Vice President, constitutes the governing body

Corporate Membership Program

NATCA's Corporate Membership Program is an avenue for organizations to partner with NATCA in fostering increased safety within the National -- System (NAS) of the United States.

Our membership includes organizations that provide services to air traffic controllers, aerospace medicine practitioners, and aviation equipment manufactures, among others.

Organizations may choose a Premium membership level or a Standard membership level, explained below. The main advantage of Premium membership is the exclusive reception with NATCA leadership.

Standard Membership Program

As a standard member, you will receive the following benefits:

- Welcome package with letter from President and EVP, corporate partner lapel pin, pen, NATCA water bottle, Dynamic Travel and Cruise flyer, and The NATCA Difference lanyard
- Company logo with hyperlink displayed on the NATCA Difference website (www.thenatcadifference.com)
- NATCA press releases and the organization's e-newsletter (The NATCA Update)
- Annual wall calendar
- Annual Reception with NATCA leadership

Premium Membership Program

As a premium member you receive all standard-level benefits, plus the following:

- Receive a 5% discount on sponsorship at NATCA's Communicating for Safety (CFS) conference
- Early selection of sponsorship and exhibiting opportunities for CFS
- Two semi-annual in-person meeting with NATCA leadership at our Union's National Office.
- Opportunities for our premium corporate partners to advertise job vacancies to our NATCA retired members.
- Company spotlighted in NATCA communications.
